Rough Draft For The Story.

Chapter 1

In 1920 Albert Einstein invented a pant gun that when used turns people into pants when they get covered by pants. He started off by just turning people that didn't buy his pants into pants (or his employees who didn't make enough pants.); he had his pant underlings find dissenters and give them to him. Doing this he made many enemies and got Tim Nis to protect him. But then he had an idea and so in 1924 he used his pant army to oust Calvin Coolidge from office and become president himself. He then used his pant army to become world leader on January 1st 1929 but he wasn't done he started to invade alien planets the aliens fought back with a ufo gun but all their soldiers were being turned into pants Albert sent a giant lazer pant called Super Pant #1. In all the chaos baja california revolted and left Earth for the Baja California planet but Albert was ready and sent a massive pant known as Super Pant #2 and the Death Pant Squadren (leader Tim Nis) to destroy the Baja California planet. Also the Aliens planet has barely any land so he built a massive pant navy and turned 1/2 of the sea creatures into pants so he could sell the pants to the sea creatures that were not turned into pants and make that $$$$$. The massive super-stores he used to sell them were named "Old Navy" after the boats with the extra large pant guns used to supply and defend them. Albert assigned directors to each of the stores. Eventually, they tired of his rule and revolted (Lead by James Alkerfield), possibly urged and helped by Albert Einstein's archnemesis, Niels Bohr who still denies any involvement to this day, causing a bloody civil war. Albert Einstein started out winning, and had nearly defeated the Managers at the battle of Old Navy 7297493, which was a critical naval base and their last remaining stronghold. Their massive navy was the only thing keeping them alive. Albert had already managed to breach the jeans department when Baja California swooped in to their rescue, because Baja California still had a grudge against Albert Einstein. As it turned out, Baja California had managed to take over the massive pant laser used to destroy its home and attacked Einstein with a Baja blast. Tim Nis and a few other Death Pant squadron members managed to get into escape pods and escape. With the power of Super pant #2, Albert Einstein's forces surrendered and he was forced to go into hiding. However, he started an underground cult named S.W.E.A.T.P.A.N.T.S. to reassert his dominance at a later date. He also started to research Pantonium, a material used to make a fission reaction between panticles, the pant shaped particles of the quantum world. It could unleash massive amounts of energy if used carelessly.Baja California then left to rebuild its home planet leaving a power vacuum. This power vacuum was filled with many small states and volatile alliances; eventually three powers emerged:Old Navy, Super-cats (Schroginger), and one whose name is uncertain (Heinsinburg). These two through bloody conquest destroyed many states like Byzantium (sorry Mehmed VI), Gestwert, Fishyl, and also kept the aliens at bay. They then teamed up to hopefully defeat the aliens once and for all.

Chapter 2

Meanwhile 6 people all named Bruce Wayne were at an orphan bowling night with free food. When they found a crack in the floor climbing though revealed the Bowling Cave$^{R,C,™}$! Yay! They have a home and an Alfred all to their own.They then started to create Bowling Tech$^{R,C,™}$ where they first created the Bowl-mobile$^{R,C,™}$ it had three canons that could fire up to 500 pound bowling balls and it rolled like a hamster ball. They fought crime not out of the goodness of their hearts but so people would pay them for their good work. But, there was an issue. He needed a sidekick. Luckily, he had a solution. There was a villain in their town. His name was Captain Skee Ball. He would roll massive skee balls at anything he wanted from his massive skee ball mobile. He would rampage through the town and kill people! So every now and then, the Bowlies (for that was the name of bowling ball affiliated “”””””””””””””superheroes“”””””””””””””) would take a night off. Then, Captain Skee Ball would destroy half the city. In the morning, the Bowlies would open up their orphanage and let all the parentless children come in. The bowlies picked out all the best kids named Robin and raised them to be sidekicks. So the Bowlies and their Robins would save the day and protect the fine city of Baha California, the capital of Baya California. Unfortunately kids are easy to kill so when Robin died to the bowling pin mafia (they wanted the bowies to be dependent on Skee Ball as he was a member and leader of the mafia) they took off his head and made it into a bowling ball and his body into a bowling pin and found a new Robin and killed his parents. S.W.E.A.T.P.A.N.T.S had secured enough Pantonium to defeat the Old Navy (Pantonium is both explosive and turns anyone near it into pants that serve Albert (though unbeknownst to Albert Old Navy survived on old navy base Old Navy 7297493) And he had control over most all the world again but Einstein had a fierce battle with Heisenberg and Schrodinger who both committed treason by holding on to some of their lands they had the advantage of Einstein never knowing how fast they were moving and where they were (reference to https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Uncertainty_principle) the bowlies saw this as an opportunity to take control of the world so when Einstein Heisenberg and Schrodinger were all on their last legs the bowlies took them over with their signature bowling cannons and put them in jail to make inventions for them (Nathen Smeth took over as the leader of S.W.E.A.T.P.A.N.T.S) of course the bowling pin mafia would be quickly dealt with all the new found power. But getting new Robins would be a challenge without skee ball so it would be better if they were allies this would be under wraps of course and they would have to do fake battles from time to time this also lead to baja California finally being able to go to baja california planet (rebuilt by Baja California)

Chapter 3

The aliens are still here and still want land so they war of humans and aliens began anew but this time the aliens were doing much better with the feared generals Zim-Zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr (pronounced Gooth-yurst-uh-foy-neeter) were making great gains the bowling balls didn’t do well is space do to there being much less gravity of course as the fighting got closer to Earth there would be more gravity and thus the aliens would do worse but on Earth some people noticed that parents of people named Robin would die much more often thus starting the 1st robin revolt (out of many) so they went to Einstein Heisenberg and Schrodinger to make a device that would make people believe in anything they say without turning them to pants Heisenberg said he had an idea but would need to be let out to build it the Bruce Wayne 4 said not to trust him but Bruce Wayne 3 opened the jail door without thinking about it and Heisenberg quantum teleported away and started the quantum gang or quantum mafia its uncertain (again reference to https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Uncertainty_principle) they were able to put Schrodinger back in jail easily but Einstein escaped in a heated battle with both the aliens and the Robins revolting the 6 bowlies couldn't fend both off and so made a peace treaty with the aliens for all of Australia to be theirs if they helped fight the robins, but it turns out that the aliens are super weak against the australians animals. Zim-Zorb was mad at the deal but it was his fault that the deal was made so he will honor the deal (for now). And tried his best but he swore that he would have his revenge against the bowlies. Also Zim-zorb/Guthyerstf-poiunytr are now head of aliens non-demestic affairs department succeeding Sucherlerd Bredshaw and Ceschherles Eferstiuysty. Meanwhile Einstein didn't know that the bowling pin mafia and the Bowlies were in cahoots and so asked them for an alliance. The bowling pin mafia immediately tried to recapture him in the ensuing battle many mafia members were pantified including Snook Pool, Pin Bowl, Josh "Shuf" Board, and Tim Nis. Skee Ball nearly got Einstein but he escaped albeit with major injuries, he needed help. With the last S.W.E.A.T.P.A.N.T.S strongholds not knowing about his escape (not that Nathen would tell them as he knew if he did Einstein would be the leader not him), he joined the Robins.

Chapter 4

Old Navy (now led by William Taft after James Alkerfield died via a heart attack) is still here (still in Old Navy 7297493); everyone was too scared to "put the last nail in their coffin" in fear that Baja California would come back. You know, let's talk more about Old Navy. It is (and has always been) a coalition of roughly 74% (37/50) of managers of the original Old Navy who revolted against Albert for poor pay and many being turned into pants. Many say Niels Bohr started the revolt though Niels Bohr denied it even after being elected to the senate. They have a king that serves for life and can veto anything the senate/judiciary passes. The Judiciary is elected by the senate and is made of 37 people; they can veto laws, amend the constitution (the king can veto any attempted amendment) and elect the new king once the original dies. They do their elections in the fitting room of fate. The senate; 44 people that make laws. Any one senator can make a law and if the judiciary votes in a ⅔ majority it is passed on to the king to either be voted or passed. They elected by the people and serve for 2 year terms. The 37 after the death of James Alkerfield were split between war hero Tyler Stitch and former president Taft. Maribelle P. Foldington casted the deciding vote on L'hiver 4th 1930. During the 1st (and so far only) Old Navy vote 34,945 votes were cast this is also the closest we'll get to a population number. Notable senate members elected in this election include Pope Pius XI, and Bohr. Borh is currently trying to invent revival technology Old Navy already has Issac Newton's corpse so if they can revive him they will have another physitis and can bring back Taft once he dies (last living president of the US). Maybe with the help of Issac we can unpant someone making Einstein's gun a complete non-factor.

Chapter 5

Meanwhile Guthyerstf-poiunytr is very angry at not being able to live in their new lands do to the animals that live there so he and Zim-Zorb hatch a plan domesticate the animals, so they take out most of their already meager forces in the Robin revolt (they didn't care much just enough to keep the bowlies happy) they started with Wombats. They used alien technology to speed up generations and thus the process so by the end of 1931 they had fully domesticated Wombats. Now for the animal that gave them the most trouble now all those forces they pulled out from the Robin revolt really got to do something! Running around Australia collecting animals for domesticating and often getting killed by them. Emus proved especially hard but they still managed to get it done. Now time to populate Australia with them. Zim-Zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr talk about how to do this reads as follows: How are we supposed to do that (in dramazier (their language) of course) -Guthyerstf-poiunytr UHHHHHH -Zim-Zorb we spent a WHOLE YEAR on this and you haven't thought of how to populate Australia after we're done!

-Guthyerstf-poiunytr Hey you didn't think of this either! -Zim-Zorb I didn't think of this because it was your plan I assumed you already know how! I see now I shouldn't have put that much faith in you. -Guthyerstf-poiunytr O.K. it's simple we'll kill all the emus… -Zim-Zorb HOW!! -Guthyerstf-poiunytr Oh I have an even better idea than the one I was just said (which would of 1098% worked). We'll go back to our planet and make millions and they'll quickly out populate the bad emus because our emus can't breed with the bad emus, so they'll quickly go extinct. -Zim-Zorb I guess I should of put that much faith in you -Guthyerstf-poiunytr. While Zim-Zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr were trying to repopulate the emus they found they did not want to do it themselves so they put a young captain Ed Ewgaeugfburyoug (Captain Ed for short.) Captain Ed was not happy with this position he wanted to fight. But with the aliens withdrawing from the Robin Revolt there was no war to fight so he had to repopulate all of Australia. But in Queensland a war was brewing the "bad emus" were going to fight the "alien emus".

Chapter 6

The "Bad emus" were surprisingly good at combat and were winning the war against the "Alien emus". Captain Ed was overjoyed when he heard this a war to fight FFFFFIIIIIIINNALLLYY he screamed. Charging into war against the bad emus he immediately turned the tide. The 2ed great Australian Emu war was about to start. During the fateful battle of Townsville (the one in Queensland not North Carolina (both real places settled by humans.)) The Bad Emus use part of their army as bait and when the Good Emu forces come close they attack them from two sides Ed loses an eye in the ensuing battle The Aliens win but with heavy losses, Captain Ed has one of his arms amputated do to an injury. After the Aliens flee south to the Horseshoe Lagoon (because the Alien planet has so much water they are better accustomed to wet areas) but the Bad Emus had a base (with walls of cactus that could crawl and a "sponsored by liberty mutual" sign) there and the emus there were wearing lab coats and could attack Ed from their base. Ed (after seeing this) invaded their base the Bad Emus (unprepared) lost the battle but the good emus had significant casualties. Inside they found the Bad Emus had been making an un-pantification device which now has fallen into Alien hands. Ed now is in possession of such a powerful weapon (the un-pantification device); anyone would pay a fortune for it! Or a continent if the Bowlies gave Asia to the Aliens they would have plenty of land and the animals are less deadly there. He sent a telegram (if it ain't broke don't fix it) to Guthyerstf-poiunytr telling him about this opportunity. Guthyerstf-poiunytr told him to hang on to it if they could secure Australia the un-pantification device would be better in Alien not Bowlien hands. He would make a deal if they lost the 2ed great Australian Emu War. Ed decides to continue south he sees little "Bad Emus" until Home Hill where the emus set up a base due to the high ground and the North Coast railway line allowing for easy escape. In preparation for this next battle Ed asked Guthyerstf-poiunytr for a cybernetic arm. Two days later Zim-Zorb delivers the arm to Ed.

Chapter 7

Meanwhile the Bowlies are angry at the aliens dipping out of the Robin Revolt war and swear that after it is over they will retake Australia for themselves. Unfortunately Einstein + the Robins make the war drag on and the Bowlies are quickly losing ground. When Bruce Wyne 2 gets pantified the bowlies sue for peace and the Robins now peacefully live in South America. Now Alfreds would be the Bowlies side kicks the Alfreds (of course) don't care. Still licking their wounds from the Robin revolt they won't invade the Aliens quite yet, but they will get back South America and make the Robins their sidekicks. Also it comes to light what they do with the Robin corpses… They turn their heads into bowling balls… and their bodies to pins (remember?). It is at this time the 2ed Robin revolt had started over a disagreement on how the Robins should conduct their government. On one side you have Robin #12 popular in the north (where a lot of oil is) he thinks that it should be a totalitarian regime. While Robin #49 popular in the south (where the capital is) believes it should be modeled off of Old Navy's regime. Einstein sided with the Northerners and is currently pantifing people all over Santiago. This gives the Bowlies hope that the war for South America will be an easy one letting them put more focus into reclaiming Australia. It's now 1932 and the Bowlies are letting both the Aliens and Robins use all their might fighting their wars; then they'll swoop in and beat both of them, reclaiming their territory.The Bowlies have been heavily investing in Bowling Tech$^{R,C,™}$ where they made the Bowl-mobile$^{R,C,™}$ Mark V. The Mark V (Called MK.V for short.) which had five cannons each capable of firing two 1,000 pound bowling balls at once. The Robins and Aliens won't stay outside the oligarchy for long. In the 2ed Robin revolt Einstein is quickly winning due to all the pantified Robins and the South Robins implosion. Various factions arise on how to stop the Einsteinian threat and their in-fighting makes Einstein's job very easy. One faction breaks off and flees into the Amazon rainforest. Which neither north or south Robins can really control. With North Robin reinforcements arriving it seems only a miracle can save the South Robins. Baja California hears of this at the Baja California planet and (Einstein still does not want to have super pant #2 sent against him again.) California (seeing an opportunity) came to try to stop Einstein. Einstein, remembering what happened, last time and he, now in a weaker state. Quickly pleads with Baja California. Baja California says that he would leave Einstein alone if he

1. Decommissions the super pant #1 (the Bolies already did)
2. Never make another super pant
3. Never interfere with the Baja California planet

Einstein accepted eagerly. After seeing this Baja California didn't sign herself but added a 4th stipulation

4. Never interfere with the Baja Californian activities unless express permission is given by Baja California

Einstein again accepted. Baja California satisfied leaves. She gets back safely to the Baja Californian planet. Anyway The South Robins are crushed by this, but there was still hope. In the dead of night James Keith who was sent by Nathen to go kill Einstein in Santiago (the capital of Robin controlled South America) after he somehow survived the war. As James entered Santiago he found that he might not need to kill Einstein himself. James Kieth sneaks up to Einstein and he gets hit by a pant turning his arm into a pant and he tries to make an escape but the pantness is spreading. As he turns fully into a pant, Einstein thinks about how to stop future assasination attempts. He now always looks behind his constantly fearing someone will get and sanctifies anyone who he doesn't recognize. The Bolies after hearing of South Robins near-certain defeat go in to give Einstein his what for. Sending the Bowliesing army but keeping the Mk. V back. Don't want to have it get destroyed immediately! The Bowlies are sending an experimental bomb called the Bowling Bomb. It is a large bowling ball shaped bomb that explodes in shrapnel and explosives.They were pretty cheap to make so the Bolies didn't think that they would lose profit.The Bolies and their army marched to the amazon with all of their bowling balls preparing for the coming epic battle. The armies of the Bolies and the south robins meet up and prepare to try and endure Einstein's greatest attack yet. The Bolies and South Robins merge forces and meet Einstein's army head on and a massive battle ensures. On one side you have the North Robins and on the other the Bowlies, the Bowling Pin Mafia and the South Robins. The South Robins were battered and weak from infighting and pantification so they couldn't do much; but the Bowlies they did great! They roll strike after strike on the North Robins killing many. Then Einstein pantifies Bruce Wayne 5. This is a horrible blow to the bowlies and ruins morale. The North Robins storm forward; the Bruces decide to cut their losses and leave the North Robins now fully have South America. Bruce Wayne 1 steps down as head Bruce (due to 2 Bruces getting sanctified during his tenure) and gives the title to 4 (2's a pant and 3 had the "Heisinburg incident). Anyway the North Robin capital (Guayaquil Equador) now has a full government (still a dictatorship).

Chapter 8

Now the aliens see an opening. If they can get Bruce Wayne 5's pantified body they can un pantifiy it and get Asia! Zim-Zorb goes to the last known place of Bruce Wayne 5 (Just north of Trinidad Bolivia;the battleground for the Battle of the Bowl) and picks up many pants found there then flies to Ed picks up the unpantification gun and gives him some food and more "good emus". UFOs are very hard to stop and even harder to identify, so Robin #12 doesn't suspect a thing. None are Bruce Wayne 5. It's just a bunch of random South Robin and Bowling pin Mafia people. Most failed to unpanify; could one of them be Bruce 5? Then Zim-Zorb has a great idea "we can unpantify Bruce Wayne 2!" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "Ya they Bowlies did take good care of his pant; locking him away with Schrödinger. Why are we only thinking of this now?" Zim-Zorb "It's in the news that Schrödinger's still in prison but Bruce Wayne 2's pantified self is gone, stolen by Heisenberg" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "Of course. You know there's always something; why can't we ever catch a break?" Zim-zorb "this is a break we'll simply give Heisenberg something he wants for Bruce Wayne 2; then we'll hold him hostage for Asia!" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "So what does Heisenberg want?" Zim-zorb "Schrödinger" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "The bowlies have Schrödinger" Zim-zorb "Yes so we'll ask them for Schrödinger and all of Asia for Bruce Wayne 2 maybe unpanified. Maybe even Bruce Wayne 5 as well if you have his pantied self" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "Think they wouldn't accept and we're tipping our hand here" Zim-zorb "You have a better idea?" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "Hope Ed succeeds" Zim-zorb "Oh ya forgot about that guy".

Interim

Old Navy in their reviving of Issac Newton aren't making good progress, though they have revived a frog (about the only thing living on Old Navy 7297493)! Old Navy is still experimenting with revival technology and this has led to a lot of reviven frogs. To thank their revivers the frogs joined Old Navy and will help them in any future conflicts. Meanwhile the Philadelphia Athletics won the world series over the Cardinals! The MLB had stayed. Although Einstein didn't like Baseball and tried to stop the MLB some teams continued to play in secret when the Bowlies took over they liked Baseball (they are the "batmen" after all) and took these secret teams and some new ones into the MLB. The first two seasons didn't have a world series as the league was still getting its footing. Now there is a world series every year! Heisenberg and his crownies tried to get Schrödinger out of Bowlie jail while they were out fighting in South America. It is uncertain how and when but what is is that they failed (The Alfreds were standing guard). Schrödinger is still imprisoned.

Chapter 9

Old Navy's 2nd election is here 40,244 ballots. This time the frogs try to vote but can't write or speak so it proves futile. Maribelle P. Foldington is a controversial figure and does not get re-elected for judiciary Mehmed VI replaces her. Tyler Snitch and Tyler Stitch (not confusing at all) are both senators now. Pope Pius XI, and Bohr are re-elected and of course Taft is still the king. Parties haven't really formed in Old Navy with only ~40,000 people; it is easy to keep track of the few that run for office. The new regime decided to put more money into Issac Newton's revival.

Chapter 10

The bowlies meanwhile were looking for Bruce Waynes to replace 5 and 2. After going through many people they found Bruce Wayne 7. No 8 yet but they have had 5 Bruces for a while now it should be fine! Bruce Wayne 7 was an odd fellow but charming and unpredictable, a true x-factor in both war and diplomacy. They'll need the war. They are going to join the bad emus in the "2nd great Australian emu war". After a time to rest their soldiers (mostly Alfreds at this point and mafia members (they still pretend to hate each other they say "they are simply in a temporary coalition against a bigger foe")), get Bruce Wayne 7 up to speed, let Bruce 4 get used to making decisions for the bowlies, and also replenish bowling bombs, M VI Bowl mobiles ecs. It is after the 2ed Old Navy election that the Bowlies enter the 2ed emu war. This is met by panic from Zim-zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr. Guthyerstf-poiunytr "Should we now come to help Ed?" Zim-zorb "we are the heads of the non-demestic affairs department; we aren't allowed to fight!" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "can we telegram the president of the United Alien Coalition Front Against the Bowlies? To see if we can get permission to intervene?" Zim-zorb "worth a shot" sends telegram to Yestrix Ustry Guess I've never explained what's going on on the alien planet. So the alien planet is a lot like ours but with A LOT of water the 5 main islands (each about the size of Madagascar) are Kuliop,Jip,Istulerhuyt, Hluyam and Iya. Each island had their own countries vying for power much like Earth. When Einstein showed up all the countries joined forces against the threat forming "the Alien Alliance Against Einstein" with Frish Edinfwa being the alien who was able to make everyone join together. After the whole Old Navy thing they went back to everyone fighting amongst themselves. Then they realized that when they were united things were better (at least for a war-time) so they reunited themselves as the "United Alien Coalition Front Against the Bowlies" with Yestrix Ustry as their president. The president is elected with each of the former countries of the land having one vote. This voting system has had many detractors because Kuliop alone has 6x more countries than Jip and Iya combined. Anyway Yestrix Ustry says that he'll send Gestrust Huy from Hluyam and to take their position while Zim-zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr go down and fight. With Ed, Zim-zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr all working together the bad emus. They devised a plan to go south and "out-run" the bowlies reinforcements having battles that devastated the "bad emus" at Proserpine and Andergrove. Then they came to Heypoint. Heypoint seemed like another battle that would go like the rest Ed Zim and Guthyerstf would use their superior general strategies to defeat the bad emus with ease; but midway through the battle the Bowlies arrived and Bruce Wayne 4 made his soldiers march slowly as to not alert the Aliens of their presence. He attacked their unprotected back flank and the Aliens suffered massive losses. ¾ths of their “good emus” dead in just one battle.

In 1920 Albert Einstein invented a pant gun that when used turns people into pants when they get covered by pants. So the Bowlies and their Robins would save the day and protect the fine city of Baha California, the capital of Baja California.] Unfortunately kids are easy to kill so when Robin died to the bowling pin mafia (they wanted the bowies to be dependent on Skee Ball as he was a member and leader of the mafia) they took off his head and made it into a bowling ball and his body into a bowling pin and found a new Robin and killed his parents.
S.W.E.A.T.P.A.N.T.S had secured enough Pantonium to defeat the Old Navy (Pantonium is both explosive and turns anyone near it into pants that serve Albert) And he had control over most all the world again but Einstein had a fierce battle with Heisenberg and Schrodinger who both committed treason by holding on to some of their lands they had the advantage of Einstein never knowing how fast they were moving and where they were (reference to https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Uncertainty_principle) the bowlies saw this as an opportunity to take control of the world so when Einstein Heisenberg and Schrodinger were all on their last legs the bowlies took them over with their signature bowling cannons and put them in jail to make inventions for them (Nathen Smeth took over as the leader of S.W.E.A.T.P.A.N.T.S) of course the bowling pin mafia would be quickly dealt with all the new found power. But getting new Robins would be a challenge without skee ball so it would be better if they were allies this would be under wraps of course and they would have to do fake battles from time to time this also lead to baja California finally being able to go to baja california planet (rebuilt by Baja California) but the aliens are still here and still want land so they war of humans and aliens began anew but this time the aliens were doing much better with the feared generals Zim-Zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr *(*pronounced Gooth-yurst-uh-foy-neeter) were making great gains the bowling balls didn't do well is space do to there being much less gravity of course as the fighting got closer to Earth there would be more gravity and thus the aliens would do worse but on Earth some people noticed that parents of people named Robin would die much more often thus starting the 1st robin revolt (out of many) so they went to Einstein Heisenburg and Schrodinger to make a device that would make people believe in anything they say without turning them to pants Heisenburg said he had an idea but would need to be let out to build it the Bruce Wayne 4 said not to trust him but Bruce Wayne 3 opened the jail door without thinking about it and Heisenburg quantem teleported away and started the quartem gang or quantum mafia its uncertain (again referance to https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Uncertainty_principle) they were able to put Schrodinger back in jail easily but Enstein escaped in a heated battle with both the aliens and the Robins revolting the 6 bowlies coudn't fend both off and so made a peace treaty with the alians for all of Australlia to be theirs if they helped fight the robins,but it turns out that the aliens are super weak against the australians animals. Zim-Zorb was mad at the deal but it was his fault that the deal was made so he will honor the deal (for now). and tried his best but he swore that he would have his revenge against the bowlies. Also Zim-zorb/Guthyerstf-poiunytr are none head of aliens non-demestic affairs department succeeding Sucherferd Bredshaw and Ceschherles Eferstiuysty. Meanwhile Einstein didn't know that the bowling pin mafia and the Bowlies were in cahoots and so asked them for an alliance. The bowling pin mafia immediately tried to recapture him in the ensuing battle many mafia members were pantified including Snook Pool, Pin Bowl, Josh "Shuf" Board, and Tim Nis. Skee Ball nearly got Einstein but he escaped albeit with major injuries, he needed help. With the last S.W.E.A.T.P.A.N.T.S strongholds not knowing about his escape (not that Nathen would tell them as he knew if he did Einstein would be the leader not him), he joined the Robins. Old Navy (now led by William Taft after James Alkerfield died via a heart attack) is still here (still in Old Navy 7297493); everyone was too scared to attack them in fear that Baja California would come back. You know, let's talk more about Old Navy. It is (and has always been) a coalition of roughly 74% (37/50) of managers of the original Old Navy who revolted against Albert for poor pay and many being turned into pants. Many say Niels Bohr started the revolt though Niels Bohr denied it even after being elected to the senate. They have a king that serves for life and can veto anything the senate/judiciary passes. The Judiciary is elected by the senate and is made of 37 people; they can veto laws, amend the constitution (the king can veto any attempted amendment) and elect the new king once the original dies. They do their elections in the fitting room of fate. The senate; 44 people that make laws. Any one senator can make a law and if the judiciary votes in a ⅔ majority it is passed on to the king to either be voted or passed. They elected by the people and serve for 2 year terms. The 37 after the death of James Alkerfield were split between war hero Tyler Stitch and former president Taft. Maribelle P. Foldington casted the deciding vote on L'hiver 4th 1930. During the 1st (and so far only) Old Navy vote 34,945 votes were cast this is also the closest we'll get to a population number. Notable senate members elected in this election include Pope Pius XI, and Bohr. Borh is currently trying to invent revival technology Old Navy already has Issac Newton's corpse so if they can revive him they will have another physitis and can bring back Taft once he dies (last living president of the US). Maybe with the help of Issac we can unpant someone making Einstein's gun a complete non-factor. Meanwhile Guthyerstf-poiunytr is very angry at not being able to live in their new lands do to the animals that live there so he and Zim-Zorb hatch a plan domesticate the animals, so they take out most of their already meager forces in the Robin revolt (they didn't care much just enough to keep the bowlies happy) they started with Wombats. They used alien technology to speed up generations and thus the process so by the end of 1931 they had fully domesticated Wombats. Now for the animal that gave them the most trouble now all those forces they pulled out from the Robin revolt really got to do something! Running around Australia collecting animals for domesticating and often getting killed by them. Emus proved especially hard but they still managed to get it done. Now time to populate Australia with them. Zim-Zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr about how to do this reads as follows: How are we supposed to do that (in dramazier (their language) of course) -Guthyerstf-poiunytr UHHHHHH -Zim-Zorb we spent a WHOLE YEAR on this and you haven't thought of how to populate Australia after we're done! -Guthyerstf-poiunytr Hey you didn't think of this either! -Zim-Zorb I didn't think of this because it was your plan I assumed you already know how! I see now I shouldn't have put that much faith in you. -Guthyerstf-poiunytr O.K. it's simple we'll kill all the emus… -Zim-Zorb HOW!! -Guthyerstf-poiunytr OH I have an even better idea than the one I was just said (which would of 1098% worked). We'll go back to our planet and make millions and they'll quickly out populate the bad emus because our emus can't breed with the bad emus, so they'll quickly go extinct. -Zim-Zorb I guess I should of put that much faith in you -Guthyerstf-poiunytr. While Zim-Zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr were trying to repopulate the emus they found they did not want to do it themselves so they put a young captain Ed Ewgaeugfburyoug (Captain Ed for short) Captain Ed was not happy with this position he wanted to fight. But with the aliens withdrawing from the Robin Revolt there was no war to fight so he had to repopulate all of Australia. But in Queensland a war was brewing the "bad emus" were going to fight the *alien emus". But the "Bad emus" were surprisingly good at combat and were winning the war against the "Alien emus." Captain Ed was overjoyed when he heard this a war to fight FFFFFIIIIIIINNALLLYY he screamed. Charging into war against the bad emus he immediately turned the tide. The 2nd great Australian Emu war was about to start. During the fateful battle of Townsville (the one in Queensland not North Carolina (both real places settled by humans :)) The Bad Emus use part of their army as bait and when the Good Emu forces come close they attack them from two sides Ed loses an eye in the ensuing battle The Aliens win but with heavy losses, Captain Ed has one of his arms amputated do to an injury. After the Aliens flee south to the Horseshoe Lagoon (because the Alien planet has so much water they are better accustomed to wet areas) but the Bad Emus had a base (with walls of cactus that could crawl and a "sponsored by liberty mutual" sign) there and the emus there were wearing lab coats and could attack Ed from their base. Ed (after seeing this) invaded their base the Bad Emus (unprepared) lost the battle but the good emus had significant casualties. Inside they found the Bad Emus had been making an un-pantification device which now has fallen into Alien hands. Meanwhile the Bowlies are angry at the aliens dipping out of the Robin Revolt war and swear that after it is over they will retake Australia for themselves. Unfortunately Einstein + the Robins make the war drag on and the Bowlies are quickly losing ground. When Bruce Wyne 2 gets pantified the bowlies sue for peace and the Robins now peacefully live in South America. Now Alfreds would be the Bowlies side kicks the Alfreds (of course) don't care. Still licking their wounds from the Robin revolt they won't invade the Aliens quite yet, but they will get back South America and make the Robins their sidekicks. Also it comes to light what they do with the Robin corpses… They turn their heads into bowling balls… and their bodies to pins (remember?). Old Navy in their reviving of Issac Newton aren't making good progress, though they have revived a frog (about the only thing living on Old Navy 7297493)! James Keith was sent by Nathen to go kill Einstein in Santiago (the capital of Robin controlled South America) after he somehow survived the war. As James entered Santiago he found that he might not need to kill Einstein himself. The 2nd Robin revolt had started over a disagreement on how the Robins should conduct their government. On one side you have Robin #12 popular in the north (where a lot of oil is) he thinks that it should be a totalitarian regime. While Robin #49 popular in the south (where the capital is) believes it should be modeled off of Old Navy's regime. Einstein sided with the Northerners and is currently pantifing people all over Santiago. This gives the Bowlies hope that the war for South America will be an easy one letting them put more focus into reclaiming Australia. Old Navy is still experimenting with revival technology and this has led to a lot of reviven frogs. To thank their revivers the frogs joined Old Navy and will help them in any future conflicts. Ed now is in possession of such a powerful weapon (the un-pantification device); anyone would pay a fortune for it! Or a continent if the Bowlies gave Asia to the Aliens they would have plenty of land and the animals are less deadly there. He sent a telegram (if it ain't broke don't fix it) to Guthyerstf-poiunytr telling him about this opportunity. Guthyerstf-poiunytr told him to hang on to it if they could secure Australia the un-pantification device would be better in Alien not Bowlien hands. He would make a deal if they lost the 2nd great Australian Emu War. It's now 1932 and the Bowlies are letting both the Aliens and Robins use all their might fighting their wars; then they'll swoop in and beat both of them, reclaiming their territory.The Bowlies have been heavily investing in Bowling Tech[R.C.™] where they made the Bowl-mobile[R.C.™] Mark V. The Mark V (Called MK.V for short.) which had five cannons each capable of firing two 1,000 pound bowling balls at once. The Robins and Aliens won't stay outside the oligarchy for long. In the 2nd Robin revolt Einstein is quickly winning due to all the pantified Robins. As Ed continued south he saw little "Bad Emus" until Home Hill where the emus set up a base due to the high ground and the North Coast railway line allowing for easy escape. In preparation for this next battle Ed asked Guthyerstf-poiunytr for a cybernetic arm. Two days later Zim-Zorb delivers the arm to Ed. Meanwhile the South Robins are imploding. Various factions arise on how to stop the Einsteinian threat and their in-fighting makes Einstein's job very easy. One faction breaks off and flees into the Amazon rainforest. Which neither north or south Robins can really control. With North Robin reinforcements arriving it seems only a miracle can save the South Robins. Baja California hears of this at the Baja California planet and (Einstein still does not want to have super pant #2 sent against him again.) California (seeing an opportunity) came to try to stop Einstein. Einstein, remembering what happened, last time and he, now in a weaker state. Quickly pleads with Baja California. Baja California says that he would leave Einstein alone if he

1. Decommissions the super pant #1 (the Bolies already did)
2. Never make another super pant
3. Never interfere with the Baja California planet

Einstein accepted eagerly. After seeing this Baja California didn't sign herself but added a 4th stipulation

4. Never interfere with the Baja Californian activities unless express permission is given by Baja California

Einstein again accepted. Baja California satisfied leaves. She gets back safely to the Baja Californian planet. Meanwhile the Philadelphia Athletics won the world series over the Cardinals! The MLB had stayed. Although Einstein didn't like Baseball and tried to stop the MLB some teams continued to play in secret when the Bowlies took over they liked Baseball (they are the "batmen" after all) and took these secret teams and some new ones into the MLB. The first two seasons didn't have a world series as the league was still getting its footing. Now there is a world series every year! Anyway The South Robins are crushed by this, but there was still hope. In the dead of night James Kieth sneaks up to Einstein and he gets hit by a pant turning his arm into a pant and he tries to make an escape but the pantness is spreading. As he turns fully into a pant, Einstein thinks about how to stop future assasination attempts. He now always looks behind his constantly fearing someone will get and sanctifies anyone who he doesn't recognize. The Bolies after hearing of South Robins near-certain defeat go in to give Einstein his what for. Sending the Bowliesing army but keeping the Mk. V back. Don't want to have it get destroyed immediately! The Bowlies are sending an experimental bomb called the Bowling Bomb. It is a large bowling ball shaped bomb that explodes in shrapnel and explosions.They were pretty cheap to make so the Bolies didn't think that they would lose profit.The Bolies and their army marched to the amazon with all of their bowling balls preparing for the coming epic battle. The armies of the Bolies and the south robins meet up and prepare to try and endure Einstein's greatest attack yet. The Bolies and South Robins merge forces and meet Einstein's army head on and a massive battle ensures. On one side you have the North Robins and on the other the Bowlies, the Bowling Pin Mafia and the South Robins. The South Robins were battered and weak from infighting and pantification so they couldn't do much; but the Bowlies they did great! They roll strike after strike on the North Robins killing many. Then Einstein pantifies Bruce Wayne 5. This is a horrible blow to the bowlies and ruins morale. The North Robins storm forward; the Bruces decide to cut their losses and leave the Robins now fully have South America. Bruce Wayne 1 steps down as head Bruce and gives the title to 4 (2's a pant and 3 had the "Heisinburg incident). Along-side this the aliens see an opening. If they can get Bruce Wayne 5's pantified body they can un pantifiy it and get Asia! Anyway the North Robin capital (Guayaquil Equador) now has a full government (still a dictatorship). Zim-Zorb goes to the last known place of Bruce Wayne 5 (Just north of Trinidad Bolivia;the battleground for the Battle of the Bowl) and picks up many pants found there then flies to Ed picks up the unpantification gun and gives him some food and more "good emus". UFOs are very hard to stop and even harder to identify, so Robin #12 doesn't suspect a thing. None are Bruce Wayne 5. It's just a bunch of random South Robin and Bowling pin Mafia people. Most failed to unpanify; could one of them be Bruce 5? Heisenberg and his crownies tried to get Schrödinger out of Bowlie jail while they were out fighting in South America. It is uncertain how and when but what is is that they failed (The Alfreds were standing guard). Schrödinger is still imprisoned. Zim-Zorb was a great idea "we can unpantify Bruce Wayne 2!" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "Ya they Bowlies did take good care of his pant; locking him away with Schrödinger. Why are we only thinking of this now?" Zim-Zorb "It's in the news that Schrödinger's still in prison but Bruce Wayne 2's pantified self is gone, stolen by Heisenberg" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "Of course. You know there's always something; why can't we ever catch a break?" Zim-zorb "this is a break we'll simply give Heisenberg something he wants for Bruce Wayne 2; then we'll hold him hostage for Asia!" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "So what does Heisenberg want?" Zim-zorb "Schrödinger" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "The bowlies have Schrödinger" Zim-zorb "Yes so we'll ask them for Schrödinger and all of Asia for Bruce Wayne 2 maybe unpanified" "Bruce wayne 5 as well if you have his pantied self" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "Think they wouldn't except and we're tipping our hand here" Zim-zorb "You have a better idea?" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "Hope Ed succeeds" Zim-zorb "Oh ya forgot about that guy". The bowlies meanwhile were looking for Bruce Waynes to replace 5 and 2. After going through many people they found Bruce Wayne 7. No 8 yet but they have had 5 Bruces for a while now it should be fine! Bruce Wayne 7 was an odd fellow but charming and unpredictable, a true x-factor in both war and diplomacy. They'll need the war. They are going to join the bad emus in the "2nd great Australian emu war". After a time to rest their soldiers (mostly Alfreds at this point and mafia members (they still pretend to hate each other they say "they are simply in a temporary coalition against a bigger foe)), get Bruce Wayne 7 up to speed, let Bruce 4 get used to making decisions for the bowlies, and also replenish bowling bombs, M VI Bowl mobiles ecs. Old Navy's 2nd election is here 40,244 ballots. This time the frogs try to vote but can't write or speak so it proves futile. Maribelle P. Foldington is a controversial figure and does not get re-elected for judiciary Mehmed VI replaces her. Tyler Snitch and Tyler Stitch (not confusing at all) are both senators now. Pope Pius XI, and Bohr are re-elected and of course Taft is still the king. Parties haven't really formed in Old Navy with only ~40,000 people; it is easy to keep track of the few that run for office. The new regime decided to put more money into Issac Newton's revival. It is after the election that the Bowlies enter the 2nd emu war. This is met by panic from Zim-zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr. Guthyerstf-poiunytr "Should we now come to help Ed?" Zim-zorb "we are the heads of the non-demestic affairs department; we aren't allowed to fight!" Guthyerstf-poiunytr "can we telegram the president of the United Alien Coalition Front Against the Bowlies? To see if we can get permission to intervene?" Zim-zorb "worth a shot" sends telegram to Yestrix Ustry Guess I've never explained what's going on on the alien planet. So the alien planet is a lot like ours but with A LOT of water the 5 main islands (each about the size of Madagascar) are Kuliop,Jip,Istulerhuyt, Hluyam and Iya. Each island had their own countries vying for power much like Earth. When Einstein showed up all the countries joined forces against the threat forming "the Alien Alliance Against Einstein" with Frish Edinfwa being the alien who was able to make everyone join together. After the whole Old Navy thing they went back to everyone fighting amongst themselves. Then they realized that when they were united things were better (at least for a war-time) so they reunited themselves as the "United Alien Coalition Front Against the Bowlies" with Yestrix Ustry as their president. The president is elected with each of the former countries of the land having one vote. This voting system has had many detractors because Kuliop alone has 6x more countries than Jip and Iya combined. Anyway Yestrix Ustry says that he'll send Gestrust Huy from Hluyam and to take their position while Zim-zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr go down and fight. With Ed, Zim-zorb and Guthyerstf-poiunytr all working together the bad emus. They devised a plan to go south and "out-run" the bowlies reinforcements having battles that devastated the "bad emus" at Proserpine and Andergrove. Then they came to Heypoint. Heypoint seemed like another battle that would go like the rest Ed Zim and Guthyerstf would use their superior general strategies to defeat the bad emus with ease; but midway through the battle the Bowlies arrived and Bruce Wayne 4 made his soldiers march slowly as to not alert the Aliens of their presence. He attacked their unprotected back flank and the Aliens suffered massive losses. ¾ths of their "good emus" dead in just one battle.

Daniel will we continue to add to this now that we have the slideshow?

Yeah
